Two of the three boys involved in the trouble have been sent to the Industrial School. (By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 14.—The Senate today passed the measure providing for a referendum in the Territory of Hawaii on the question of prohibition. The resolution as it passed the Senate was amended to eliminate the feature by which some of the members of the Senate objected, namely, that portion making it mandatory for the Territorial Legislature to pass a prohibitory law at the next regular session of the Legislature if the vote went in favor of prohibition. The resolution now goes to the House of Representatives.

Grand Jury After Illicit Liquor Sellers

Federal Inquisitors Hold Session And Summon Soldiers As Witnesses

The United States Grand Jury has begun an investigation into alleged illicit liquor selling in the vicinity of Lelienua, the United States Cavalry post, and the halls of the Judiciary building were crowded this morning with soldiers who have been summoned as witnesses in the investigation that has been begun. The Federal Grand Jury had a lengthy sitting this morning and there is apparently a determination upon the part of the Federal inquisitors to run down the report that illicit liquor selling has been carried on without inter-

Judge Whitney Makes Personally Conducted Excursions

Judge Whitney of the Circuit Court and his clerk, John Marcellino, have constituted a sort of flying patrol for the work of the juvenile court and as a consequence delinquent youths who are inclined to linger about the wharves and streets during the hours when they should be endeavoring to master the rule of three are becoming cautious. The juvenile court patrol is a brown runabout that is wont to come around corner with startling suddenness and cause a scattering of good juvenile court material. The personal expeditions by Judge

MONGOLIA BROUGHT BLOCKADERS AND MAIL

Steamship Enroute to Confer With Sugar
Factors

TOURIST CONTINUES TO SEE THE GOLD

The Pacific Mail liner Mongolia leaves for San Francisco at Five Thirty this evening.

After repelling blockades caused by snow and high water which have prevailed on the line of the Southern Pacific Railroad between Ogden, Utah, and points in Nevada, a number of passengers for the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia finally got through to San Francisco, only after having been transferred around by the way of Portland, Oregon.

The Mongolia was held at San Francisco for several hours pending the arrival of trains with mails and passengers coming from the North.

The Pacific Mail vessel came into port at an early hour this morning and before ten o'clock was alongside the Alakea street wharf.

Honolulu drew 75 cable, 14 second class and 2 Asiatic steamer passengers. The vessel brought about seventy tons of freight and a shipment of 215 bags of mainland mail. The liner brought a large number of kamies as well as tourists. The through list of passengers is also a large one there being 205 in the cabin with nearly 300 Asiatics returning to their native land.

The trip down from the coast was a pleasant one. Among the Honoluluans were James McCandless who returns from a business trip, Charles Bockus is also back from the coast where he has been looking into mining properties. Miss Grace Power returns from a successful quest for late millinery offerings in the East.

A. Lewis Jr. spent several months on the mainland and returned by the Mongolia. Quite a delegation of friends met Mr. and Mrs. Albert Waterhouse who are back from an extended visit to the states.

Hsu Ping Chen the retiring Chinese Consul-General of San Francisco, is returning to China, accompanied by his wife. Other passengers for the Far East are Mr. and Mrs. Moses Fox, Mrs. J. McKensie, Mrs. Callaghan and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Davidson. J. A.

Sugar Contract Will Be Renewed

Manager Dearborn Of American-Hawaiian Talks On Conditions

The business relations between the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company and the Sugar Factors Company of Hawaii have been and are at present the pleasantest, and I do not contemplate any difficulty in arranging a renewal of our contracts for transporting the sugar crop from the islands to the mainland and the Atlantic seaboard. Stated George S. Dearborn, general manager of the American-Hawaiian line, this morning as the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia neared the Alakea street wharf. "Our contracts involve the carrying of about three hundred and fifty thousand tons of sugar annually between the Hawaiian Islands and the United States," continued Mr. Dearborn, who comes to Honolulu to close the details on an option which the steamship line holds for another three years of service with the Sugar Factors Company. "Twenty-seven days to New York. We are landing large shipments of sugar at New York or Delaware Breakwater every week." Insisted Manager Dearborn. "We maintain a twelve-day service between the Hawaiian Islands and the Pacific terminus of the isthmus of Tehuantepec. The principal product of these islands is carried in vessels of modern construction and large tonnage. "We have been landing sugar at Delaware Breakwater in twenty-seven days including the transfer of cargoes at the isthmus and its (Continued on Page 2)

Special Harbor Watch On Suspected Sampan

Port Collector Stackable Details Special Guard In Opium Smuggling Campaign

The United States officials are keeping a watchful eye over the harbor of Honolulu since the inauguration of the Federal campaign against opium smuggling and, according to the statement of an official this morning there are several men especially detailed to follow the movement of every Japanese sampan that comes into port. These watchers are under the direction of the Collector of the Port Stackable and it is believed that their activities will ultimately result in a discovery as to whether the reports that sampans bring the illicit contraband drug into the Territory are well founded or one of the many rumors that have followed in the wake of the opium campaign. The United States revenue cutter Thetis is away on a cruise, exact destination unknown and in the interval the special waterfront watchers are keeping a vigilant lookout for the coming of the suspicious sampan or other vessel that may have some of the illicit and highly valuable opium as portion of the cargo.

PROBLEM IN TAX ON AUTOMOBILES POLITICAL COLOR IS COMING TO SURFACE

Board Of Equalization Holds Its First Meeting

A hard problem in connection with the levying of the tax on automobiles confronts the Board of Equalization which held its first sitting today. The Board has discovered that the laws passed at the last regular session of the Territorial legislature provide for the levying of a tax of automobiles on a basis of a ten per cent advance upon their registered factory rate. The equalizers now want to discover the factory rating of the cars. It is stated that the factory rate of a large number of machines cannot be ascertained and the Board is desirous of discovering just how they will get around the problem.

There was a full attendance at the meeting of the Board in the offices of Assessor Wilder this morning, those present being W. C. Wilcox of Hawaii, Sam Kanewa and J. K. Farley and Charles Wilder.

Peter Nawai, who escaped from custody this morning was recaptured this afternoon at Waikiki. The convicted burglar would give no explanation of his breaking away from the gang with which he was working. He will be kept within the prison limits in future, and will be deprived of many small benefits.

DR. DUNLOP MOORE UP FOR BATTERY

Was Former Quarantine Officer At This Port

By the latest coast files received today it is seen that Dr. Dunlop Moore, assistant surgeon at the United States marine hospital, was arrested on Monday, March 7, by the federal authorities on a charge of having brutally beaten Mateo Brozzino while the latter lay on his deathbed in the institution on the morning of February 17.

Dr. Moore was formerly in charge of the Quarantine service at this port being succeeded a short time ago, by Dr. Hobdy.

A warrant based on the complaint of William Holst, a member of the same order as the doctor's victim, was issued by Commissioner E. H. Hancock and was placed in the hands of United States Marshal Elliot, who immediately dispatched one of his deputies, M. J. Fitzgerald, to take the surgeon into custody.

Although to outward appearances a mild mannered man, Doctor Moore flew into an ungovernable rage when a snap shot was taken of the group (Continued on Page 6) for that position, he will be given the unanimous support of the party workers and the voters generally.

Judging from the above list, it is evident that the Republican party has succeeded in adding its support another well-known Home Ruler in the person of Mr. Mahoe, who, it is said, has consented, or would agree to join the Republican party when the proper time comes.

Mahoe, when seen recently, remarked that the Republican club in Wailuku was gaining strength, and that in his opinion it would win at the coming election, without the slightest doubt. He concluded by saying that the Home Rule party, which was his for many years, was losing ground, and that slowly but surely its members were joining the other two parties—the Republican and the Democratic.
